

DEFENCE OF THE MAILER.

Tracing Jessie Cramer on the Day before her Death.

NEW HAVEN. Sept. 20.—In the Malley hearing the State reached the end of the list of witnesses this morning, in the person of William A. Courtney, a reporter for the Register, who testified that he had an interview with James Malley, Jr., on the day on which Jessie Cramer's body was found, and that James then at first denied knowing the girl, and afterward said he knew her by sight, and denied having ever written to her.

Frank Kaiser, the first witness called by the defense, testified that he was acquainted with Jessie Cramer. He had known her for a year and a half. On Thursday, Aug. 4, about noon, he, with four friends, got on a Savin Rock car at Church and Chapel Streets. Jessie Cramer was in the car in a seat alone. Three of the witness's friends sat in the seat with her. The witness and his friends got off at Railroad row at the shore, and she went on. The witness saw no more of her. He did not speak to her again until Saturday, Aug. 6.

Eugene Schatz, Joe H. Dunning, David Robinson, and Charles Gates, four friends of the last witness, and who were on the car with him, corroborated the testimony of Frank Kaiser.

Richard W. Wolfe testified that at 8 A. M. on Thursday, Aug. 4, he saw Jessie Cramer and another girl get out across the lawn in front of Mr. Edmondson's house. The two girls were coming from the house. They were laughing and jolly, and Jessie waved her hand toward them.

To Mr. Bush the witness said that on Monday, Sept. 5, he saw a man with a black moustache stand on the bank opposite the steps of Mr. Edward Malley's house. Mr. Bush asked him if he knew the man, and Mr. Birdenburg tried to make it clear that he was the man with the black moustache. Mr. Bush visited the Malley house in search of evidence. Mr. Bell then cleared himself by testifying that he entered and left the house by the rear door.

The witness said that on Monday, Sept. 5, he saw a man with a black moustache stand on the bank opposite the steps of Mr. Edward Malley's house. Mr. Bush asked him if he knew the man, and Mr. Birdenburg tried to make it clear that he was the man with the black moustache. Mr. Bush visited the Malley house in search of evidence. Mr. Bell then cleared himself by testifying that he entered and left the house by the rear door.

The witness said that on Monday, Sept. 5, he was staved at the Elliott House.

At 1 P. M. on Thursday, Aug. 4, he saw Jessie Cramer, whom he had known for six or seven years, walking up State Street. She was wearing a dark coat. She was alone, and was walking very fast. She then entered into Court street toward the City Hall.

Mr. Bush said that he was a druggist clerk for A. H. Blackman at Grand and Franklin Streets, three blocks from where Jessie Cramer lives. He knew her by sight. Mr. Fox had told him that Jessie Cramer had a prescription that it was in his handwriting. The paper contained a prescription, which the witness said it was for Jessie Cramer, two or three days before he heard of her death.

The prescription consisted of sal. tartar. 4 oz.; gum opium; 4 dram; gum arabic, 1 oz.; powdered lobelia, 1/2 oz. The prescription bottle also contained, contained thirty grains of opium. He thought he prepared it on the Wednesday before the girl's death, but it might have been on the Tuesday.

To Mr. Bush the witness said that no doctor's name was attached to the prescription which Jessie Cramer had. It was the original prescription which was handed back to Miss Cramer. There was no name on the prescription on the books, and the slip was written by the witness from memory.

Justice Bowditch said that the slip should not go into the testimony. He would have nothing to do with it, as it was written by the witness.

The witness said that he had written out the prescription at the request of Mr. Fox. Mr. Blackman had been there to make a payment. Mr. Fox was not the original prescriber.

Mr. Bush said that the prescription was not written by a physician, and is used for coughs and colds.

The witness had often put it up before for the Cramer family.

Capt. Wm. Lee, the law clerk of the last witness, gave testimony similar to that of the last witness. The hearing was then adjourned until to-morrow.

Capt. Wm. Lee's Deed.

CAPT. WM. LEE, formerly of Albany, and employed at the Grand Central Depot, this city, met with a fatal accident at Oak Harbor, Ohio, on Saturday night. While attempting to get on a train from which he had alighted for a few minutes he missed his footing and was thrown from the platform. His right leg was amputated that he might be able to walk again. He died on Sunday morning. His heart broken with pain, when he was buried on Monday afternoon. The remains last night, Capt. Lee was well known in this city, having come from which place he went with the first regiment, which he was instrumental in organizing in the war.

A Chinese Village Burned.

CHICO, Calif. Sept. 20.—This morning, shortly after 1 o'clock, fire broke out in New Chinatown, located on the west side of the corporation limits and burned down the entire village, consisting of sixty or seventy houses. Three Chinamen were burned to death.
